

CALLING ALL ARTISTS, DOODLERS AND DESIGNERS!

The Jackson Hole Historical Society and Museum is calling all artists – young and old, professional and amateur – to display your original Jackson Hole art piece in our winter exhibit.

My Jackson Hole History: A Cooperative Community-Curated Exhibit

WHAT

My Jackson Hole History (MJHH) is an educational exhibit driven by community participation. The purpose of the exhibit is to help connect our past and present through storytelling. Each participant is asked to reflect on their favorite part of Jackson and personal history here in the valley. The museum is providing the prompt “My Jackson Hole history is...” to a variety of students and community members, including artists, non-profit organizations, businesses, and government agencies in the valley. There will be artwork by children, the elderly, professional, amateurs, and students; this is a chance for everyone to show their original artwork in a gallery. While the exhibit will be diverse, the theme of Jackson Hole history will be a common theme seen across the walls.

WHY

The JHHSM is dedicated to preserving and sharing the local history of Jackson Hole to help inform and inspire the present and future. The MJHH exhibit encourages community members to think about their own role in Jackson Hole history, connection to place, and legacy. The exhibit will include informal written histories, objects from our collection, and creative pieces from local artists. We hope this exhibit encourages local participation and engagement with the unique character of Jackson Hole.
