

SENIOR HIGHS: Let's Go WEST

to Big...

WYOMING!

The trip originates in Memphis. Campers and counselors board a chartered Greyhound bus which will take them on a forty hour trip with a constantly changing view of Mid-America. When they reach the tiny village of Moose, in the heart of beautiful Jackson Hole, they are greeted by additional counselors, ranch owners, and their staff. Immediate attention is directed to the corral where a horse is selected for each camper according to his riding ability. The splendor of Wyoming begins to unfold.

WYOMING
AND THE
GRAND TETONS

Westward-Ho for Senior Highs is extremely fortunate to have two of the finest dude ranches as the sites for their camping program. The McConaughys, owners of the "R Lazy S" and the Galeys, owners of the White Grass are eager to share their enthusiasm and experience with us as young dudes in the wide-open West.

Lower Falls.

Time out at the cabin after a ride.

Excitement of the first day of the ranches.

1. "The happiness and love of life I found in Wyoming could never be relived. I only wish that everyone in the world could be as lucky as the few who made this unforgettable trip."—P.M.

2. "Although I've been raised in an Episcopal home and attended church school, I found a new approach to old ideas which really made me think."—T.T.

3. "We were free and were offered the chance to 'let our hair down.' We didn't have to live up to the picture people at home have of us. I was able to find the 'real me'."—A.C.

4. "Every moment from beginning to end was unbelievable!!"—J.B.

5. "I have derived a greater respect for others and the knowledge that in my insufficient existence, I do have a willful effect on their happiness."—L.B.

6. "No other scenery in the world can compare with it. I really felt close to God for the first time in my life because I felt that in this free and open country I was really a part of God and His world."—S.C.

Back-breaking fun before supper.
